“Golf is about the friends you make along the way.”

- Marlene Stewart Streit

Welcome to Lookout Point.

Established in 1922.

It all began over a hundred years ago when a small group of local residents gathered to discuss the building of a new country club in the nearby community of Fonthill. They met on top of what used to be Observatory Hill. Gentle rolling hills filled their view, with specs of farmhouses, barns, and gristmills sprinkled throughout—it was truly a sight to see. To the north, views of Lake Ontario, to the south, Lake Erie, and there in the distance—nestled between the two—you could see the mist rising from Niagara Falls.

They agreed to purchase 106 acres of farmland, and plans for a course of absolute championship calibre were laid out by an architect named Walter J. Travis. Designs were drawn, fairways carved, and bunkers dug out. Greens were meticulously manicured to perfection, and the stage was set for the next hundred years, for the place we now call home.

For our members, Lookout Point is much more than a golf course—it's their home away from home, it's where they come to escape the daily routine, play golf, socialize, and relax. Over the last century we have continued to carry out our traditions of a welcoming atmosphere, and a spirit of camaraderie and friendship. With important course and clubhouse projects planned and in progress, we couldn't be more excited for what the future holds for us.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.
